Wally gets stranded in Duck, NC.

Wally was a happy Whale.
Every year Wally liked to go fishing for his vacation in Duck, North Carolina.

Of course Wally does not fish like you or me.
Wally likes to catch lots of fish all at once.

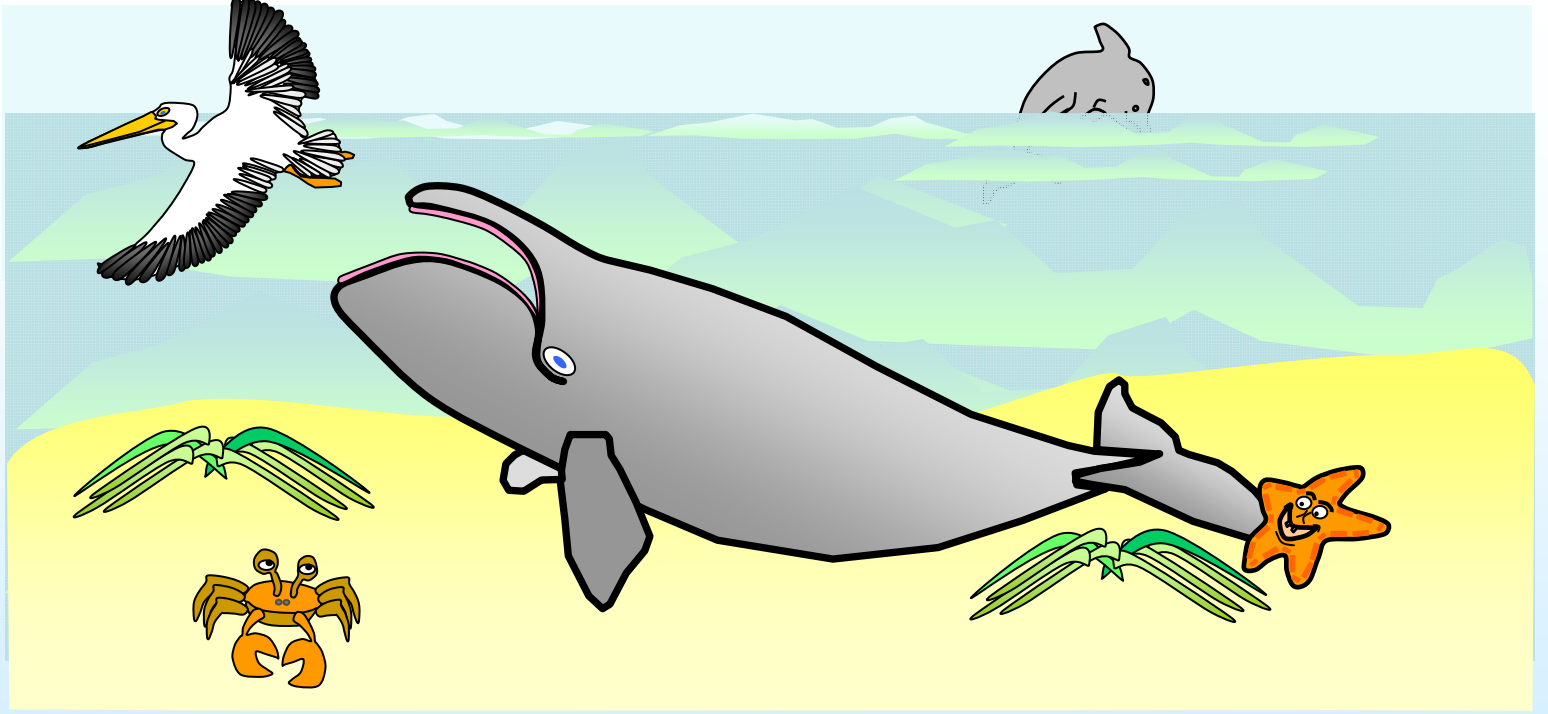

Yawn

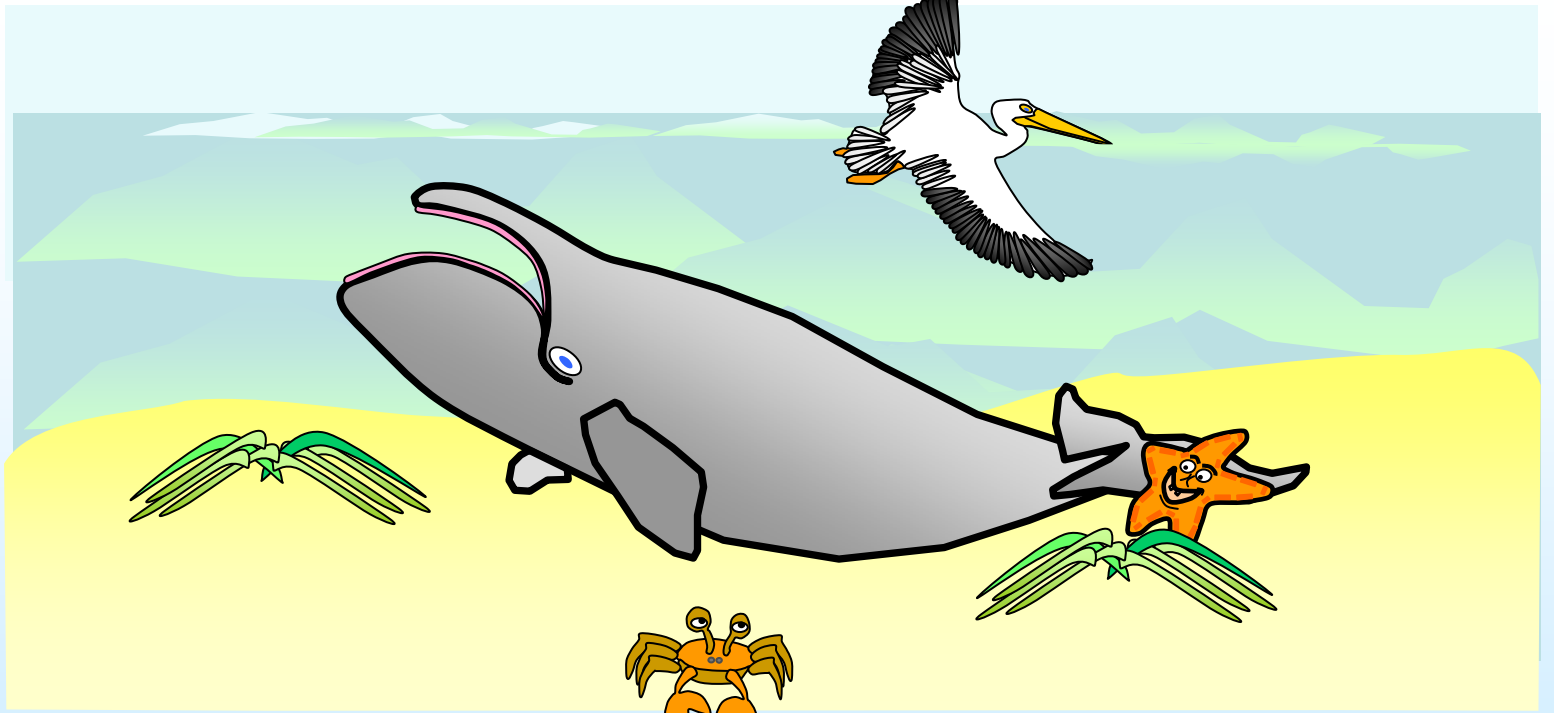

One morning Wally woke up late and was feeling rather sleepy when he went to get his breakfast.

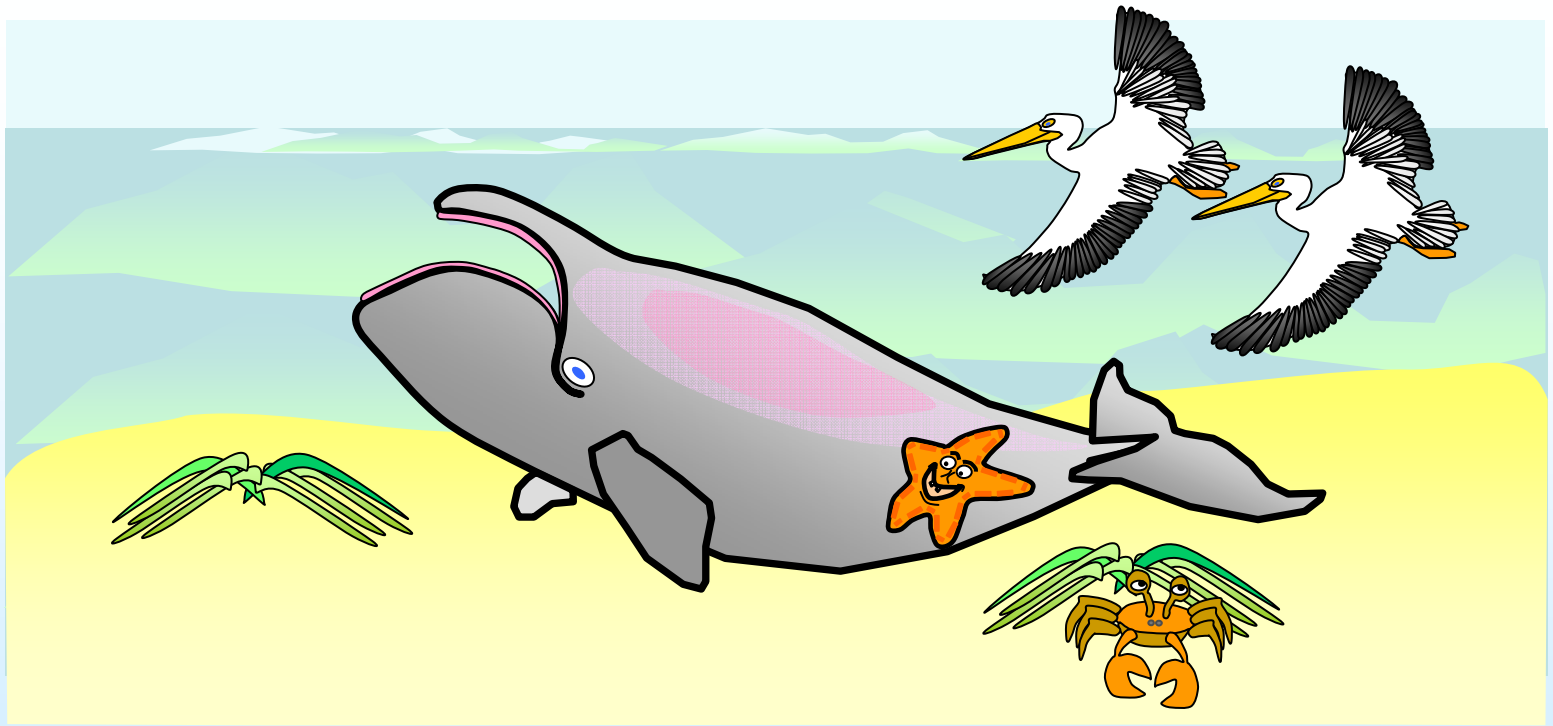

As he was chasing fish, Wally swam into shallow water and became stuck on a sand bar.

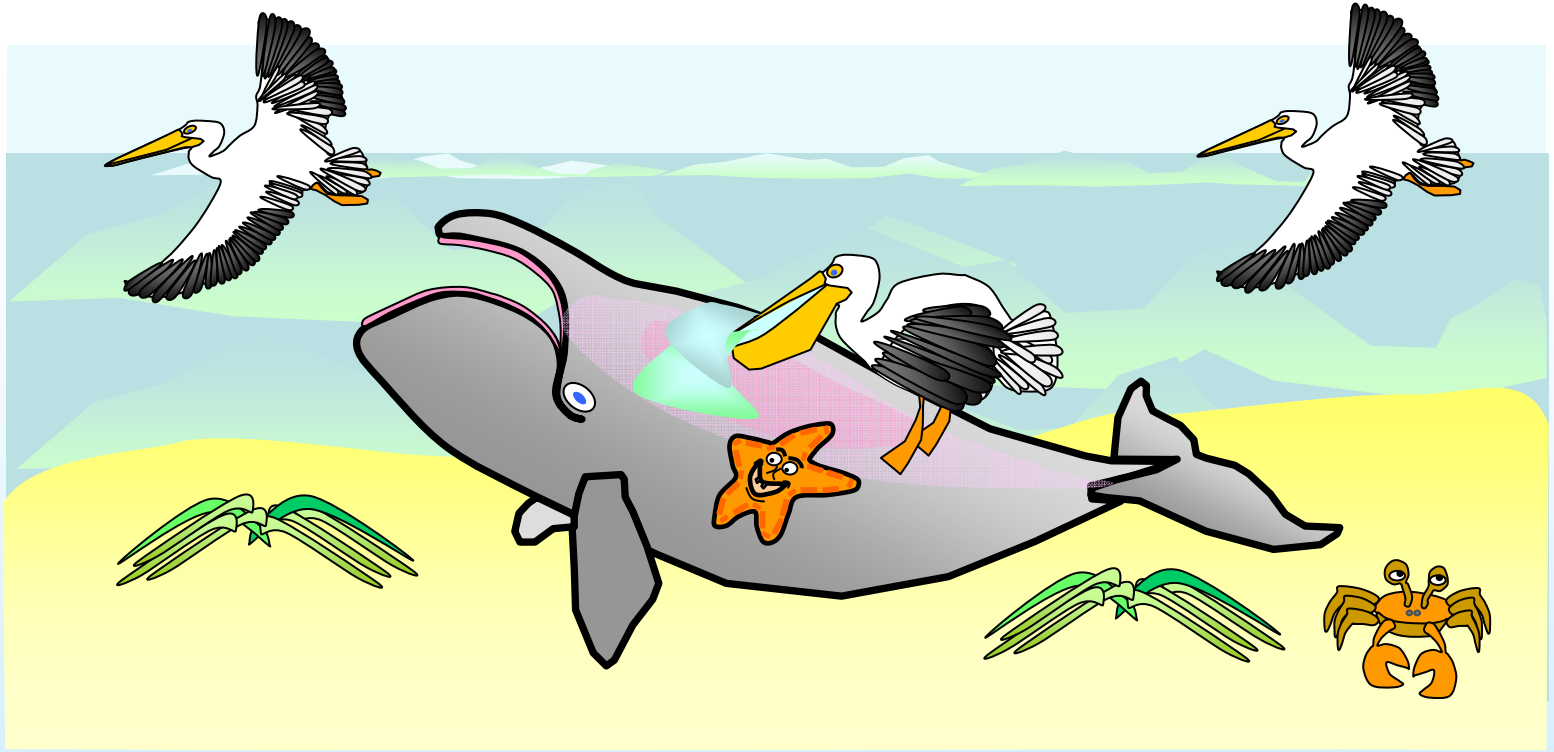

When the tide went out Wally was high and dry.

Paula Pelican saw Wally and called her friends to help.

Wally did not have any sun lotion and was starting to turn red in the hot sun.

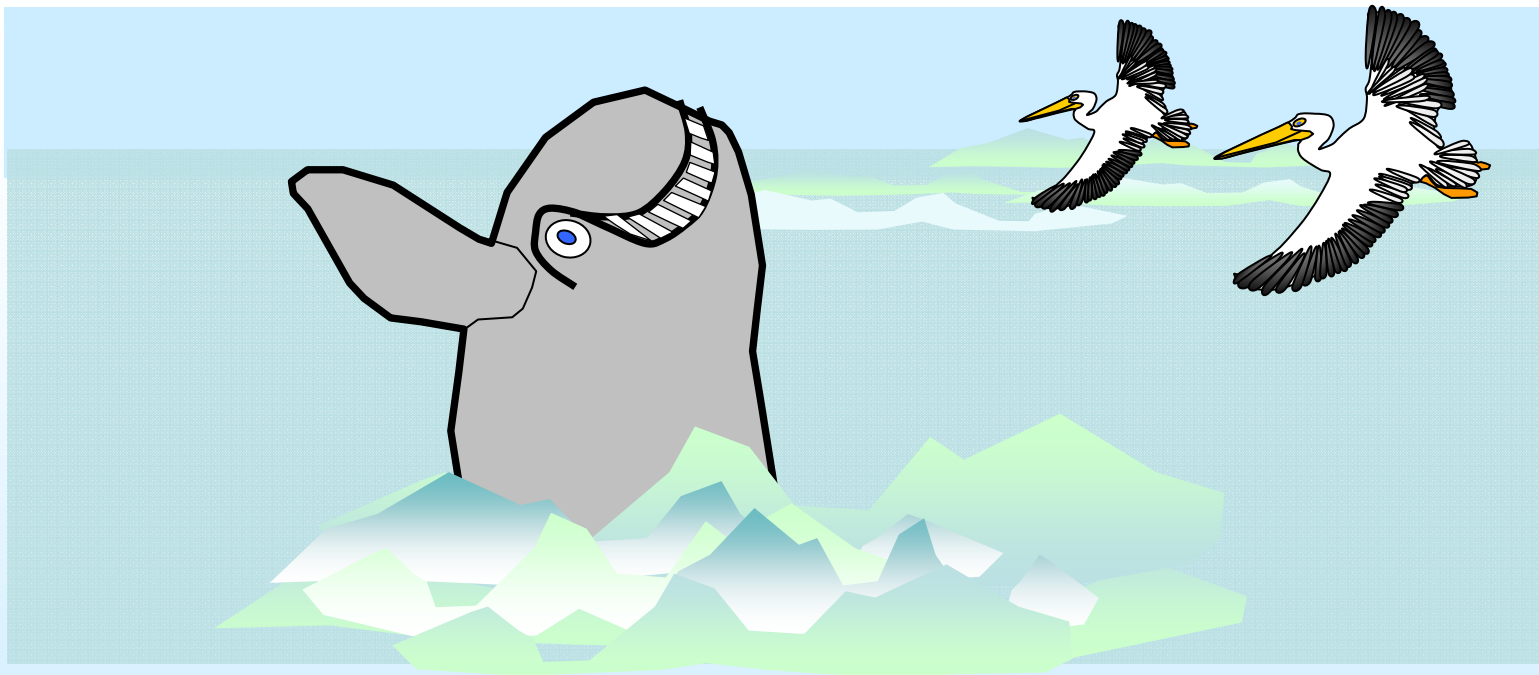

Paula Pelican got her friends to fill their beaks with water to keep Wally cool.

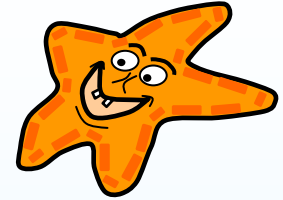

Wally sat in the sun until the tide came back and then was able to swim away.

To thank his new friends Wally caught a lot of fish and had a party with the Pelicans.

Wally had a great vacation in Duck and he met some new friends. See you next year Wally!
